FEATURE GUIDE

ASTM SAFETY FEATURES:

ASTM International is one of the largest voluntary standards developing organizations in the world. ASTM standards are voluntary; however, they were federally recognized with the 1995 passage of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act (Public Law 104-113), which requires government agencies use privately developed standards whenever possible.

An affiliate of ASTM International, SEI works with government agencies, standards development organizations, governing bodies, and manufacturers to accomplish one common goal to provide industrial workers, firefighters, first responders, law enforcement, athletes, and the general public with certified, trusted safety equipment.

NFPA COMPLIANCE:

The National Fire Prevention Association (NFPA) is a global, non-profit organization that promotes safety standards, education, training, and advocacy on fire and electrical-related hazards. Established in 1896 to standardize the use of fire sprinkler systems, the NFPA's scope grew to include building design, rescue response, electrical codes, and other safety concerns.
